"I've always had questions about what it meant to be a protester, to be in the minority. Are the people who are trying to find peace, who are trying to have the constitution apply to everybody, are they really radicals? We're not protesting from the outside. We're inside."

-Gil Scott Heron

The Revolution Will Not Be Televised
Gil Scott Heron

"I saw Joy Luck Club when it came out... with my longtime collaborator, Mina Shum. We'd just done Double Happiness and we saw this movie and we were weeping. Weeping more than the movie deserved. Our experience was much bigger than what was being called for. And we haven't even scratched the surface of how deeply we need to see ourselves represented. And how it's not just leaving the images to the outside voices. It's finding it within ourselves."

-Sandra Oh
